For Immediate Release

July 29, 2026

The Hometown Savings Bank (THSB) is pleased to announce that Luke C. Terry has joined its Board of Directors. Terry replaces long-time THSB Board member C. Don Nattkemper, who retired after 43 years of dedicated service to THSB.

Bart Colwell, President and CEO of THSB, said, "Luke brings a solid knowledge of business operations and finance to his role as a bank director at THSB. We are fortunate to have someone with Luke's expertise and character join our board as we look to the future."

Terry is a licensed Professional Engineer in Indiana and is a 2010 graduate of Purdue University, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering and a Management minor from the Krannert School of Management.

Luke began working for Marathon Petroleum Company right out of college and worked on several significant pipeline projects. Additionally, he had a role as a Refinery Feedstock Coordinator, working to calculate refinery break-evens on domestic and Canadian crudes.

After Marathon, Terry founded Hux Management Services, LLC which provides project management services for midstream energy companies, focused on pipeline development and construction.

Luke is also President of Hux Oil Corp., a family-owned oil and gas investment company.

He is also Owner and Vice President of Marion Manufacturing in West Terre Haute, which is a precision CNC shop serving the aerospace, defense and off-highway heavy equipment industries.

Luke serves on the Board of Directors of the Terre Haute Economic Development Corporation and is Vice-Chair of the Union Health System/Union Hospital Board of Directors.

Luke is married to Kelsey, and they have two children, Jack and Norah. In their spare time, Luke and his family enjoy outdoor activities, hiking, boating, traveling, good food, and good conversation.
